MARK SCHEME

Maximum Mark: 45

---

Published

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and candidates, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which Examiners were instructed to award marks. It does not indicate the details of the discussions that took place at an Examiners' meeting before marking began, which would have considered the acceptability of alternative answers.

Mark schemes should be read in conjunction with the question paper and the Principal Examiner Report for Teachers.

Cambridge will not enter into discussions about these mark schemes.

Cambridge is publishing the mark schemes for the May/June 2017 series for most Cambridge IGCSE®, Cambridge International A and AS Level and Cambridge Pre-U components, and some Cambridge O Level components.

© IGCSE is a registered trademark.

This syllabus is approved for use in England, Wales and Northern Ireland as a Cambridge International Level 1/Level 2 Certificate.

This document consists of 14 printed pages.

Both traditional and simplified characters are accepted and should be marked in the same way.

Question	Answer	Marks
1	Candidates are required to list 5 items in Chinese. Read all the items the candidate has listed and award marks as follows: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Select the most correct items up to a maximum of 5</li> <li>• Award 1 mark for each correct item up to a maximum of 5</li> <li>• Stop ticking once 5 items have been rewarded</li> <li>• On Question 1 award marks for items wherever the candidate has written them</li> <li>• If the candidate offers more than one word per line, award a mark for each acceptable item</li> </ul>
	Generic mark scheme for Question 1 <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Mark for communication. However, when the miswritten character creates a new character with a different meaning, the mark cannot be awarded.</li> <li>(b) If a prefix or suffix is missing, or a modifier word is miswritten, award a mark if meaning is still communicated, e.g. 面条: if a candidate has only written条, it does not mean anything and a mark shouldn't be awarded. If a candidate has written面 which contains the main meaning of the word noodle, the mark should be awarded.</li> <li>(c) If the mis-formed characters create a different meaning, e.g. 尺字, no mark will be awarded</li> </ul> </li> </ul>

2	Candidates are required to answer the question. Read the whole answer and award marks as follows: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Communication: award a mark out of 10 according to the instructions in 2.1</li> <li>• Language: award a mark out of 5 according to the instructions in 2.2</li> </ul>
	2.1: award a mark out of 10 for Communication Generic mark scheme for Communication (Question 2)  (i) Place the appropriate ‘numbered’ tick as close as possible to each relevant communication point (ii) Award ticks flexibly across the tasks for each piece of relevant information conveyed up to a maximum of 10 ticks. HOWEVER, each of the 5 tasks must be covered to get the 10 communication marks: (iii) If 1 of the tasks is missing, the maximum communication mark is 9 (iv) If 2 of the tasks are missing, the maximum communication mark is 8 (and so on) (v) Add up the ticks to give a mark out of 10 for Communication (vi) For COMMUNICATION be tolerant of time-frames and minor character errors, provided the characters written are clear enough to be understood <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• for language, use ‘rules’ in Question 1: miswritten characters, etc.</li> <li>• incorrect word order will not usually compromise communication</li> </ul> (vii) LISTS = a maximum of 3 marks for communication. LISTS最多给三分。 <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• 我一般和妈妈、爸爸、哥哥、弟弟一起去 (3 marks)。</li> </ul> (viii) Up to 6 further marks available for additional details (ix) Do not penalise factual errors (x) What the candidate writes may not follow the order of the tasks on the question paper – this is fine. [Total marks for Communication: 10] 	10

	Use of pinyin If a candidate uses pinyin in their answer, you should read the work as if the pinyin words were not there – they do not count towards the Communication mark. If the Communication requirements are still fulfilled, discounting the pinyin, the mark can be awarded. e.g. Question: 你喜欢吃什么 Answer 1: 我喜欢吃 jiao子. (pinyin is used for the word 'jiao'. This is a key word in the sentence, and relates directly to the question. Therefore, no Communication mark can be awarded.) Answer 2: 我喜欢吃面bao. (pinyin is used for the word 'bao'. Ignoring this word in the sentence would not affect comprehension - it is not a key word in the sentence. The Communication mark can be awarded here.) How to award marks for extra details: An extra detail is defined as any extra detail which is related in some way to any one of the five tasks. Example: 我喜欢去那里。饭店很漂亮，果汁很好喝，牛肉很好吃。 (3 Communication marks are awarded for this response) In the above example: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Award 1 tick for饭店很漂亮as this is a generic statement which addresses the requirements of task 3</li> <li>• Award 1 tick for果汁很好喝as this is an extra detail which is relevant to task 3</li> <li>• Award 1 tick for牛肉很好吃as this is an extra detail which is relevant to task 3</li> </ul>

	Very short answers If a response is under 40 characters long, a maximum of 4 marks for Language can be awarded. Pinyin The volume of pinyin in the answer should be considered when awarding the Language mark. If pinyin is used extensively, it is no longer genuinely a piece of Chinese writing. Occasional use of pinyin will not affect marking for Language, but for essays written predominantly in pinyin (i.e. more pinyin than characters) this must be taken into account in the Language mark.

Note on using mark schemes with Grade descriptors

It is important that you award marks positively. In order to ensure that you reward achievement rather than penalise failure or omissions, you should start at the bottom of the mark scheme and work upwards through the descriptors when awarding marks.

You should adopt a 'best fit' approach. You must select the set of descriptors provided in the mark scheme that most closely describes the quality of the work being marked. As you work upwards through the mark scheme, you will eventually arrive at a set of descriptors that fits the candidate's performance. When you reach this point, you should always then check the descriptors in the band above to confirm whether or not there is just enough evidence to award a mark in the higher band.

For example when marking Question 3, you may find that a candidate uses a variety of relevant vocabulary but has varied success with more complex structures. In such cases, you will need to award a mark that takes into account both the strengths and weaknesses of the piece of work.

To select the most appropriate mark within each set of descriptors, you should use the following guidance:

- If most of the descriptors fit the piece (and after you have considered the band above), then you will award the top mark in the band.
- If there is just enough evidence (and you had perhaps been considering the band below), then you would award the lowest mark in the band.

Note on irrelevant material

In the case of a deliberately evasive answer which consists entirely of irrelevant material exploited in defiance of the rubric, a score of 0 is given. These are extremely rare.

A genuine attempt to answer the question which fails due to a misunderstanding of the rubric will normally lose Communication marks but will score for Language. You should consult your Team Leader.
